Vlame Group has an entire Training Division, specialising in training for the OHS market.

Vlame Training is a highly specialised unit, which is again divided into two sections, one dealing exclusively with Occupational Health & Safety as well as Labour Training, while the other focus exclusively on Emergency Training for OHS Appointments as per statutory requirements.

Training for the full scope of Occupational Health & Safety can be categorised as follows:

Emergency Training (First-Aid & Firefighting)

Statutory Training (Employee Safety Courses as well as OHS Courses)

Appointment & Register Training (The knowledge and education process within a OHS Management System)

Ability Training (Job and Site Specific Ability Requirements within a workplace)

Operator Training (Use of equipment like fork-lifts, motorcycles, cranes etc)

Since we are highly focuseed on delivering training speifically aimed at the industry within which it is to be applied, the list of all our courses are substantial. You are welcome to speak to your local Vlame OHS Specialist about your training requirements, who will ensure your specific needs are relayed to our Training Specialists for an affordable and competent Training solution for your business.
